Action Terroriste Socialement Acceptable (ATSA) and Nuit des Sans-abri de Montréal (NSA) invite Montrealers and media representatives to the official launch of Le Temps d'une Soupe, a meeting of art and activism in solidarity with homeless citizens. The event will feature multidisciplinary artistic programming, free of charge, from Thursday, October 15 to Sunday, October 18, 2015 at Place Émilie-Gamelin, in Montreal's Quartier des spectacles.

SCHEDULE FOR THE OPENING EVENING

4 p.m. | Opening of the site to the rhythms of the Royal Pickles

5 p.m. | Inauguration of ATSA's new work, Prendre... le temps d'une soupe, a chance to sit down for an informal chat with a stranger for the time it takes to enjoy a bowl of hot soup, provided courtesy of Soupesoup, until 10 pm.

5 to 6 p.m. | Numerous well-known personalities will be on-site: François Avard, Dominic Champagne, François Papineau, Amir Khadir, Brigitte Poupart, Suzanne Clément, Josée Blanchette.

6 p.m. | Speeches by ATSA founders Annie Roy and Pierre Allard; Manon Barbeau, president of Culture Montréal; Valérie Plante, deputy mayor of the Ville-Marie borough.

6 p.m. | Public piano played by Catherine Major

7:30 p.m. | Flame show by Ezmeralda La Pirata

8:30 p.m. | Musical performance by Philippe Brach and his band

9:30 p.m. | Screening of the film De prisons en prisons by Steve Patry, who will attend.
